Digital Classroom Behavior and Expectations— Remote Learning

In addition to the Fairmont Code, it is expected that all students adhere to the following guidelines to ensure the success of the remote learning experience for all Fairmont students. Please keep in mind that these guidelines will be firmly enforced. Therefore, you will be expected to follow a proper code of conduct while participating in all remote learning experiences and classroom settings.

1. Students are expected to abide by all policies and rules outlined in our student handbook, as they relate to the remote classroom.
2. Students are expected to “arrive” at the designated class meeting time, prepared to actively participate and engage in the remote learning experience. Students are expected to wear their uniform.
3. Students are expected to be respectful when interacting with instructors and classmates. Proper etiquette is expected during all online classroom meetings, instruction, lessons, and activities.
4. Students are expected to participate in all class meetings from a designated workspace that does not offer major distractions such as music, television, video games, pets, etc. No eating during class.
5. Students are NOT allowed to record classroom instruction or post any images of their digital classrooms, instructors, or classmates.

Dismissal from Digital Classroom

Students may be removed from a virtual classroom as a result of a disruption, inappropriate comment, or any other violations of the Digital Classroom Behavior and Expectations guidelines. Students removed from classrooms will face disciplinary consequences. Such consequences may include, but are not limited to, a parent phone call, deduction of grade for that course, dean referral and/or disciplinary probation per the rules and policies outlined in our student handbook.
