

Protect Google Workspace data with CubeBackup and Wasabi

Overview

Millions of companies and schools use Google Workspace cloud platform to store their business files, mail, contacts, and calendar events data. Google Workspace data is crucially important to your business and should always be protected by a reliable backup solution. CubeBackup allows you to back up Google Workspace data to Wasabi cloud, which protects against possible data loss due to user error, hacker intrusions, ransomware attacks, and account blocks.

Wasabi works with CubeBackup to provide organizations cost-effective and reliable cloud storage for backing up Google Workspace data. This integrated backup solution allows you to have complete control of your backup data and take full advantage of the cost-effectiveness and security of Wasabi cloud storage.

With CubeBackup, you can recover any account or file to any previous state. Storing backup data in Wasabi is highly recommended over on-premises storage due to its strong security, better performance, and overall cost-effectiveness.
