Live Video Selling: An Innovative Tool to Increase Revenue

Live selling has become the leading way for brands to increase their reach and engage new shoppers virtually—and it's revolutionizing how retailers do business.

With the rise of live video being utilized across all industries—news, social media, gaming, sports, and more—consumers demand shoppable video content. In fact, live selling has become so popular that businesses using it have increased revenue by up to 8x. Live sales are now necessary for brands wanting to boost performance across the board.

Brands looking for live selling solutions are turning to CommentSold. With CommentSold's innovative platform, live video streams are transformed into shoppable content. Retailers showcase items in real-time and shoppers simply click or comment to purchase. With the ability to buy straight from live video, retailers are experiencing 6x more organic reach and 10x more engagement on their live sale posts than on pre-recorded videos.

The popularity of live video paired with the ease of live shopping has created a tremendous opportunity for retailers. Incorporating live sales allows brands to:

- ✓ Add a new revenue stream
- ✓ Create a unique, gamified shopping experience
- ✓ Build a community of loyal followers
- ✓ Bring their products to life on screen

With forward-thinking retailers rapidly adopting this sales method and consumers expecting an interactive shopping experience, live selling is projected to grow exponentially, with the live selling market set to hit $20 billion in the United States in 2022.¹

Revolutionary Retail Strategy

Where Commerce Meets Entertainment

Live selling creates an in-store shopping experience online by giving retailers an outlet to showcase their products while engaging with shoppers directly. Retailers use live sales to create gamified shopping experiences for their customers that build excitement and foster trust. This one-to-many method of selling is designed to promote addictive shopping experiences that can't be replicated with traditional e-commerce methods.

Live selling offers retailers benefits like...

“With the integration of TikTok Shop, it has made it easier than ever to convert our TikTok followers into buyers!... It’s really allowed us to capture those impulse buyers since they are able to watch, shop and buy all inside of TikTok.”

-Shane and Kelly Koenig, Three Little Mingos

“I had great sales with my first dropshipping launch through CommentSold. Dropship is great for a business like us because it removes the financial risk; I don’t have to hire additional help to ship out those products, and I’m able to offer more of a variety of styles”

-Whitney Dixon, The Hayloft Boutique

“Because of CommentSold, we have grown a staggering 107% in 3 months! My quality of life has never been better. My biggest regret was not going to this sooner”

-Julie Price, Copper Peacock

“I just love the whole package of the CommentSold platform. I love that I have a website, I have a mobile app, I have a point of sale system within my brick-and-mortar store, so it’s very cohesive. It gives me all the information and data I need, the reporting is solid....”
