The Breakers' Distinctive Restaurant Experiences Elevate Culinary Excitement in Palm Beach

PALM BEACH, FL – In the spirit of a true destination resort, The Breakers Palm Beach has cultivated its own culinary talents to create an array of nine distinct restaurant concepts that entice hotel guests and lure locals to enjoy.

Each dining experience has forged its own identity with a unique theme, a varying level of style and a one-of-a-kind setting. “Our goal is for each to be recognized in its own right with the appeal of a free-standing restaurant,” said Nick Velardo, vice president of food & beverage of the Five Diamond resort. “The Breakers is independent of chain affiliation and unhampered by template concepts, and we are passionate about offering high-quality variety.” The team’s entrepreneurial-style success also fostered the development of an off-site restaurant Echo, located only a few blocks from the main hotel on the island of Palm Beach.

HMF

Named after the resort’s founder, Henry Morrison Flagler, HMF is steeped in the glamour of an earlier era, yet wholly current. Designed by Adam D. Tihany, acting as design consultant to Peacock + Lewis Architects, this chic social club enchants its guests in an environment designed to be an ode to the classic "Palm Beach cocktail culture of the 50s and 60s," offering a lively, glamorous, unique experience.

This incredible dining concept features an extensive menu of sensational food, combining an innovative take on sharing plates reflecting multiple cuisines, with handcrafted cocktails ranging from the vintage to the experimental, and a carefully curated, award-winning wine list with over 2,000 selections – all designed to surprise and delight the senses. Open daily for dinner and cocktails. Cocktail chic is the customary attire.
