Preparing individuals to champion community and global safety

Secure Your Future

American Public University puts you first. American Public University is an innovator of academic programs conveniently offered online and designed to prepare adult learners to protect communities and nations. Its flagship School of Security and Global Studies offers highly respected programs ranging from emergency and disaster management to homeland security, from criminal justice to public policy.

With monthly start dates, no set login times, and 8-week class formats, American Public University affords the flexibility and breadth of choice you need. Our online class delivery opens access to quality education in security and global studies, respected by industry and government leaders.

Respected & Accredited

American Public University is part of American Public University System (APUS), which is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (hlcommission.org). The International Fire Service Accreditation Congress has accredited our programs in emergency and disaster management and fire science.

Consistently Affordable

American Public University delivers value with affordable tuition. We also provide ebooks at no charge to students in undergraduate courses. Through our Transfer Credit Evaluation and Prior Learning Assessment services, you may be eligible to save time and money by earning academic credit for previous education or training. Request information to learn how you can save with one of our tuition grants.

Expert Faculty

The faculty's real-world expertise sets American Public University apart. As both practitioners and scholars, faculty provide a learning journey that couples theory with their experience in government, intelligence, public safety, and policy sectors. They will challenge you to address the complex issues facing communities and nations relative to security and global studies.

Individualized Support

American Public University strives to ensure student success. Admission and academic advisors, librarians, and financial aid representatives are available by phone, email, or live chat. Academic advisors are available seven days a week. Our career services team provides resume reviews, mock interviews, and virtual job fairs.
