

SNAPSOURCE™ PRODUCT HUB

EiKO offers additional value added services through SnapCount™, the lighting retrofit software from StreamLinx. EiKO's lighting products are available within the SnapCount platform: the SnapSource Product Hub.

RETROFIT'S NUMBER ONE SOFTWARE.

The SnapSource Product Hub gives lighting manufacturers the ability to create a central catalog of their lighting products for instant use in SnapCount project quotations. SnapCount users can obtain direct pricing for their quotations from a market partner such as a manufacturer, distributor, or agent, and seamlessly order their selected solutions through SnapSource from their preferred supplier.

The SnapSource Product Hub is purpose-built to solve the frustrations of ESCOs and retrofit professionals with energy retrofit operations, and to help win more projects at a lower cost. With SnapCount, customers will replace inefficient handwritten notes with an automated, integrated software solution that runs readily on tablets and smartphones; they'll replace post-audit transcription with seamless precision; and they'll replace the labor-intensive rebate process with a streamlined rebate tool. No more maintaining a catalog – now the database of lighting products is continuously updated by the manufacturer.
