JAMES HUNIFORD

Interior designer James Huniford has a penchant for pure materials, clean lines and subtle details. Known for creating spaces that feel both inspiring and livable, his work has earned him a spot among the ranks of the most sought-after design talent. His new collection of textured solids for Lee Jofa features wonderfully soft and supple textures like velvet, mohair, cotton chenille and heavyweight linen, offered in stylish, versatile colors. These luxurious fabrics suit rooms for every taste, from a farm house in the country to an apartment in the city to a beachside retreat.

Today, Huniford sees an increase in design projects with tight timing and believes strongly in creating an option that provides optimal quality while balancing time constraints. A range of fabrics in the collection are exclusively available through Lee Jofa Express, an accelerated solution created for time sensitive projects.
