MICHAEL BERMAN

Guiding my sequel to the first Michael Berman Collection for Kravet, I sketched out a cohesive line that unites our previous successes and new designs for a wonderfully balanced and decidedly 21st century direction.

Intertwining my love for curvilinear forms, mid-century modernism and classic original lines the new collection has an intrinsically sensuous layering.

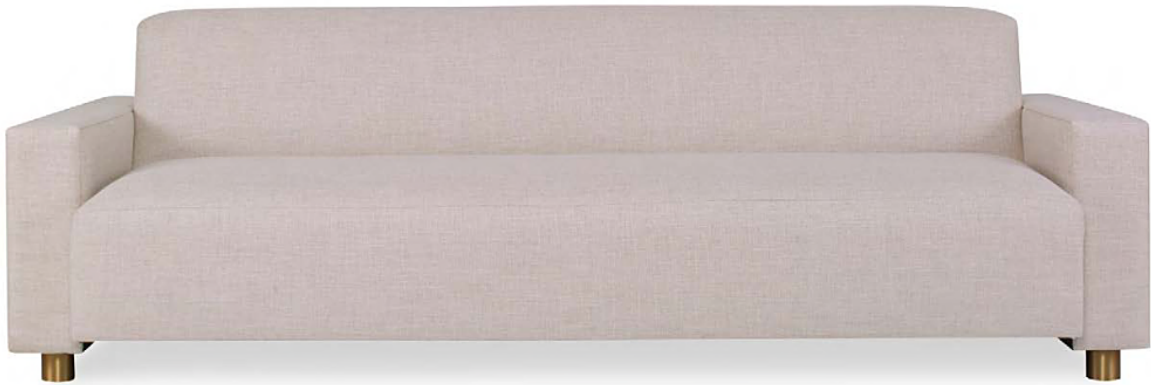

For this particular assemblage of new designs, I've reflected on some favorite inspirations: the curated mix of vintage American modernism, the influence of 1950's curves and layered architectural 1970's Brutalism forms along with the restrained clean lines for which I am known.

I believe this new furniture collection for Kravet epitomizes the casual lifestyle interior designers and architects are enthusiastic for in their own creations coast to coast. Reinforcing the importance of details, scale, integration and necessity for ultimate comfort.
