Touch down in San José. Founded in 1737 as “Villa Nueva de la Boca Del Monte del Valle de Abra,” the city’s name was later abbreviated in honor of its patron saint: “San José.” As you tour Costa Rica, keep in mind that the country, by establishing national parks and reserves, is one of the world’s most progressive in its efforts to save the earth’s endangered rain forests. Costa Rica is home to one tenth of the world’s bird species and of the world’s butterflies.

Tour a Pineapple Plantation

Overnight in Sarapiquí

Day 4: Sarapiquí | Arenal

Travel to the Arenal Region

This morning you’ll journey across the Central Valley to the magnificent Arenal Region. Dormant for centuries, Arenal Volcano exploded in a massive eruption of molten lava and ash in 1968. After continuously spewing great clouds of ash and occasional lava, this volcano has been seemingly dormant since 2010. Volcanologists from all over the world come here to study this tropical volcano.

Don Juan Eco Farm Tour

As you take the tour, you will see fruits you’ve never heard of and animals you’ve never seen. At the end of tour, Don Juan’s wife will provide the group with a locally produced, organic lunch that is sure to satisfy everyone’s appetite!

Visit Arenal Volcano National Park

Get up close with Costa Rica’s most active volcano. Explore the beautiful surrounding terrain where you will find lots of unique plant life.

Overnight in the Arenal Region

Day 5: Arenal Region

Visit the Hanging Bridges

The Arenal Hanging Bridges are one the most beautiful and environmentally friendly projects in Costa Rica. Located in front of the Arenal Volcano and within the corridor, the project’s trails and bridges bring you close to the birds, flowers, and lush vegetation of the primary rainforest. With safe and easy access, the trails allow you to walk right into a beautiful forest. The imposing hanging bridges overlook a dense canopy with volcano views looming in the background.

Visit La Fortuna Waterfall

Visit the Rio Fortuna waterfall, a picturesque cascade falling from rocky heights of 230-feet. One of Costa Rica’s most spectacular waterfalls, La Fortuna is located within the thick rain forest near the town of La Fortuna. If you have time, you can make the breathtaking downhill climb to the waterfall’s base. (This activity requires a certain level of physical stamina; if travelers are not interested in participating they may choose to sit out and wait for their group.)

Exploration Time in Arenal

Visit the Arenal Hot Springs

Experience the relaxation properties of one of the area’s many natural hot springs, filled with water heated by nearby Arenal volcano and channeled into pools. It is an ideal way to soothe muscles after the day’s activities!

This treasure land of natural phenomena stretches from the lush ferns and mosses that cover the ground to the dark canopy formed by the tallest trees.

Make like the birds and the monkeys who call the cloud forest home. With local expert guides at your side, you can decide which view you prefer-from below or from above!

Visit the Santa Elena Cloud Forest Reserve

Explore the spectacular Santa Elena Cloud Forest, a paradise rich in diverse plant and animal life and situated near the Continental Divide. Warm northeasterly trade winds, filled with moisture, blow in over the Atlantic. As the winds sweep up to the Continental Divide, they cool and condense to form clouds, bathing the forest in a constant soft mist. The cloud forest averages twelve feet of rain annually! Look for bromeliads and orchids as well as brightly colored quetzals among the lush flora. Until recently, the reserve was one of only two places in the world that was home to the now extinct golden toad (sapo dorado).

The first milestone on any trip is watching students and adults who have never flown during their first take off. I usually film the new flyer's. By the time we get to the first stop they're strutting through the airport like seasoned travellers. It's fun watching that confidence being built as they learn to navigate through new experiences
